Non-Invasive Ventilation

- In order for non-invasive ventilation to be delivered in a safe manner and minimise the risk of aerosolisation, negative pressure single rooms should be used, using a dual link system with separate expiratory port or use of a double port filter system with a viral filter placed between the mask and the respiratory port.

Non-invasive ventilation preferences are:-

- CPAP without humidification
- PEEP between 10 - 12 cmH<sub>2</sub>O and up to 15-20 cmH<sub>2</sub>O according to patient's needs, tolerance and any side-effects.

Brief Report:

As a part of the Induction Program-2019 of Faculty of Engineering and Technology, a industrial visit was organized on 16th & 17th August, 2019, at Jaipur, Sanganer, for the new entrants. In this visit a batch of 48 students of different streams of engineering and two staff coordinators (Pankaj Jain, Ms. Sonia Srivastava, Rambir joon, Gaurav Singhla & Ms. Savita Sharma) visited the Jaipur, Sanganer. a busy suburban hub of craft workshops where local artisans sell traditional Bagru textile prints. We saw different machines and we were provided with a guide who told us the working of those machineries but due to lack of time we couldn't spend much time there and returned back to the university.

The final phase of Induction programme was 2days educational trip to Sanganer, a busy hub of crafts and designs. Students had the experience to explore the various techniques of block printing and screen printing with dyes. The students visited the Jantar Mantar, Hawa Mahal and also the local markets and to study about the history, architecture, traditional costumes/jewelry, cultural beliefs, and handicraft. The students had hands-on experience when they visited Sanganer. It was the most important part of the trip as students learned about Block printing and its techniques, which is the oldest form of printing the fabrics.

These kind of trips promote all round development and exposing learners stigmas to minimize and to maximize their learning. Students come with diverse thoughts, background and perceptions.

Hence it becomes important to help them adjust to the new environment and inculcate the ethos of the institution with a sense of larger purpose.

This kind of trip plays an essential role in the holistic development of Engineering Students. Overall it was a great experience of learning, joy, and bonding among the new students.

The following schedule was followed:

Pesticides application techniques for pest management
BSc. (Hons) Agriculture 2016-20 Batch

Introduction

Pesticide application plays an important role in pest management. Proper technique of application of pesticide and the equipment used for applying pesticide are vital to the success of pest control operations. The application of pesticide is not merely the operation of sprayer or duster. It has to be coupled with a thorough knowledge of the pest problem. The use of pesticides involves knowledge not only of application equipment, but of pest management as well.

Objective

1. To keep the pest under check.
2. The objective of pesticide application besides keeping the pest population under check should also be to avoid pollution and damage to the non-targets.
3. To Develop the Skilled professional for plant protection
4. To increase the efficiency of students for better consultancy

Post-Harvest Technology and Value Addition

BSc. (Hons) Agriculture 7th Semester 2020

INTRODUCTION

The stage of crop production immediately following harvest, including cooling, cleaning, sorting and packing may be termed as Post Harvest Handling. Fresh Fruits and Vegetables including root crops are mostly perishable in nature. They begin to deteriorate immediately after its separation from the parent plant and suffer considerable losses during the process of Marketing. These losses may be due to Quality downgrading due to handling: Physiological spoilage (rooting & sprouting), Pathological Spoilage from pest and diseases and Oversupply to markets.

On the Other hand, Value Addition in Horticulture is the process in which a high price is realized for the same volume of a primary product, by means of processing, packing, upgrading the quality or other such methods. For example: Making Jam of Pomegranate and Strawberry.

OBJECTIVE OF PROGRAMME

- To provide better quality, safe and branded foods to the consumers.
- To emphasize primary and secondary processing.
- To reduce post-harvest losses.
- Reduction of import and meeting export demands.
- Way of increased foreign exchange.
- Encourage growth of subsidiary industries.
- Reduce the economic risk of marketing.

Agriculture Waste Management by Vermi Compost Batch 2016-20

Vermicomposting technology is known throughout the world, albeit in limited areas. It may be considered a widely spread, though not necessarily popular technology. As a process for handling organic residuals, it represents an alternative approach in waste management, in as much as the material is neither land filled nor burned but is considered a resource that may be recycled. In this sense, vermicomposting is compatible with sound environmental principles that value conservation of resources and sustainable practices. Vermicomposting is akin to composting in that similar feedstock-organic residuals -are used. Both systems utilize microbial activity to break down organic matter in the moist, aerobic environment. Vermicomposting is however faster, produces fewer odors and produces a superior product. In SGT University for reducing the use of synthetic chemicals a unit for vermin compost production is helping to students for enhancing the knowledge of organic culture. Vermicompost (or vermi-compost) is the product of the composting process using various species of worms, usually red wigglers, white worms, and other earthworms, to create a heterogeneous mixture of decomposing vegetable or food waste, bedding materials, and vermicast.

Objective:

- The students learn waste management process and its environmental and economic benefits.
- The interested students will get to know process of composting of was.
- The course will generate employment and entrepreneurs.
- Organic farming will be encouraged.
- It will help to maintain the environment pollution free and
- Will get the knowledge of biodiversity of local earthworms

Overview:

Vermicomposting technologies constitute an inter-disciplinary science and techniques applied to agricultural commodities after harvest for the purpose of processing, packaging, storage, distribution, and marketing requirements of consumers in relation to their needs.

Vermi compost unit outcomes:

1. Students can construct their own compost farm & thereby can generate income.
2. Students/ farmers by using vermicompost in their field can increase the crop yield.
3. Students residing in cities can produce vermicompost in small scale for garden/household plants.
4. They can get the jobs in educational institutes as vermicompost/vermiculture technician.
5. By developing & propagating vermicompost technology he/she will directly or indirectly help to make environmental pollution free, by using vermicompost in the field & thereby increasing crop yield he will help to solve food problems.
6. It will lead towards organic farming & healthy food.
7. In today's world, recycling of garbage has become necessary to sustain our health and environment.
